fore proceeding to the operahouse, fore proceeding to the operahouse, the longest being at Newburgh and Kingston. At the former place, the home of the Republican candidate for Governor, he talked to a vast assemblege, having to speak in two places. Spectators interrupted the speaker with questions, in every instance receiving a reply, at west Nyack a man close to the car cried and reiterated: "Hurrah for Bryan," and Roosevelt replied: "Why don't you hurrah for Altgeld and Aguinaldo?" The cheering ceased.

Another called, "What about the foe trust" and he answered: "This slection will be decided by the patriots and men of sense in the country, who outnumber the junker shouters of your type. The ice trust will be attended to in a proper and legal way."

A man in the crowd at Newburgs said, in a low tone of voice: "Why did you call Democrats cowards and dishonest" Roosevelt heard him and quickly fung this characteristic reply: "It is Democrats, good Democrats, who swell our majority."

Toward the end of his remarks at Newburgh the Governor was interrupted a number of times by shouts of "What is the matter with Bryan?" "Down with trusts."

Gov. Roosevelt remarked: "That gentleman has all the symptoms of a Bryanite," which sally was greete with laughter and applause.

Then, walking over to one side of the platform and speaking directly toward the point from which the shouts arose the Governor said: "You look like on of those men who work exclusively with their mouths. What do you mean to do with the cotton-bale trust of Mr Jones or the los trust of Mr. Croker?

Jones or the ice trust of Mr. Croker'; [Cries of "What is the matter with Bryan?—he's all right."]

"That is an argument of wind. You are afraid to hear the truth. You interrupt this meeting because you are a hoodium and nothing else. You represent the disorderly class that is naturally against us. You represent the people who not only object to prosperity, but who don't get any of it, because you won't work. [Applause.] Now go back to your fellow-heboa and learn after this—[more yelling, and the man evidently turned to depart]—that you stand against the flag. You have not got a particle of patriotism in you. I am glad you are going away. I think you have learned enough hereafter not to monkey with the bussaw. KINGSTON (N. Y.,) Oct. 22.—This city began its reception to Gov. Roosevelt by sending 700 people on a special train to Newburgh to meet Gov. Roosevelt's party. Mr. Odell came up on the train with the Governor. The Committee on Reception announced the interest was so great that they had to arrange for three meetings in different auditoriums. Each of these was packed with people at 8 o'clock. The Governor spoke first at the Academy of Music, while at the other halls holding the audience until his arrival, other persons made brief speeches. Even then the halls failed to hold the people, and an outdoor meeting was necessary.

Gov. Roosevelt in his speech took up some of Bryan's estatements in the State, particularly the one in which Bryan said that if elected to office he would crush out every private monopoly. He said: "Why that would mean crushing out every business and the doing away with a man's revenue on a patent. Mr. Bryan could not do such a thing and he is dishonest when he says he would."

Outside of the Y.M.C.A. building a stand had been erected, around which was a large concourse of people, and the Governor spoke a few words there, be fore proceeding to the operahouse, where he was booked for his third speech.

This is not surprising, because, as a high official pointed out today, the agreement contains only what had been declared in principle regarding the present Chinese imbroglio.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] Don M. Dickinson, who was Postmaster-General in the first Cabinent of President Cleveland, and who still is one of Mr. Cleveland's closest personal and political friends, has written a long letter to a gentleman in this city. In part, it is as follows:

"I am a Democrat on all the fundamental issues on which our party joined battles in the past with the Republicans, the Whigs and the Federalists. A Democrat without the prefix gold, because my party has been the party of sound finance from Jefferson to Cleveland, I could not be a Republican if I would, and I say the creed of Democracy with all my old-time sincerity and faith. But I recognize scarcely a vestige of Democratic principle in either the Chicago or Kansas City platforms.

civic abilities of the deceased statesman.

At the State Department, also, a message was framed to be transmitted in multiple to the United States ambassadors, ministers and charges d'affaires abroad, officially notitying them of the demise of ex-Secretary Sherman.

The ex-Secretary was known intimately, not only officially, but personally, to Secretary of State John Hay ever since the days of the Civil Wan. Mr. Hay said of him: "In the death of Mr. Sherman the country has lost one of its greatest citizens, a man whose name was conspicuously connected with all the great events and policies of the latter half of the nineteenth century; a man not only of extraordinary ability, but of the most spotiess character, and one whose personality, as well as his work, will always be a model and as incentive to the youth of the country."

character, and one whose personality, as well as his work, will always be a model and an incentive to the youth of the country."

Secretary Long was notified of the death of his former colleague after reaching the department. He said: "I can only express my deep regret and unlimited respect for Mr. Sherman. He was a remarkable man, one of the eminent statesman of this country, and his name will be so recorded in history. The country owes him a debt of gratitude for the service he rendered while Secretary of the Treasury in maintaining the national credit on a sound and conservative basis."

Secretary Gage said: "Whether as a Representative, Senator, or a member of the Cabinet, Mr. Sherman was at all times a distinctive force. He had led the forces in Congress, which passed the Resumption Act in 1874. As Secretary of the Treasury in 1877, it became his duty to carry into effect the provisions of the law he had previously, in Congress, done so much to inaugurate. In the performance of this duty he had many difficulties to meet, but he met them with the wide foresight, the steady courage and the calm parsistency which the occasion demanded. History will, I believe, point to that peried as the most brilliant in his career, and will recognize that in bringing back the national treasury to specie payment on January 1, 1879, he society of the greatest and most useful work of his long and fruitful life."

President McKinicy was greatly affected by the news of Mr. Sherman's death. He immediately directed that the White House be closed to visitors, and the figo on the Executive Mannion was placed at haif-mast. After ordering some beautiful flowers from the White House conservatory, he went in person to Mr. Sherman's late residence to express his grief and offer what consolation he could to the bereaved family. Mrs. McCalium informed him of the provisional funeral arrangements, and the Fresident decided not to delay his departure for Canton tonight. WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The funeral arrangements, so far as they pertain to the services at Washington, were completed late this afternoon. They will take place at the late residence of ex-Secretary Sherman Wednesday afternoon at I o'clock, Rev. McKay Smith of St. John's Episcopal Church being the officiating clergyman. Immediately after the service the body will be taken to Mansfield, O., where the arrangements for the last rites have been left in the hands of Rev. W. S. Kerr and other friends of the family. Services will probably be held Thursday at the Episcopal Church where Mr. Sherman usually attended while in Mansfield, and the interment will be made that afternoon in the burial lot by the side of Mrs. Sherman. The party going from here includes relatives and friends, and also representatives of the State and Treasury departments. The list of homorary pallbeafers is still incomplete, but as far as those invited who have accepted are concerned, they include the following: Secretary Gage, Justice Harian of the Supreme Court, J. A. Kasson, J. C. Bancroft Davis, J. D. Cameron, Senator Hawley and M. M. Parker. President Mitchell is coming to Pottsville tomorrow when there will be a monster demonstration of miners from all over Schuykill county. On this occasion a speech is expected from him explaining his position on the powder question which now stands in the way of a settlement of the strike. WANT TO KNOW ITS MEANING.

INT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—AM.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that before the United States gives its adherence to the Angio-German agreement, the administration authorities purpose to learn its exact meaning.
The belief is not consealed that the agreement is the most significant of recent developments in regard to China.
While the administration is highly gratified with the first two articles of the convention reiterating, as they do, declarations which have been the keynote of Secretary Hay's policy from the outset of the Chinese trouble, the third article is regarded with suspicion which is the more intense because of Germany's previous aggressive policy and the action of Great Britain in landing troops at Shanghai.

This article specifically declares that the two contracting parties reserve to themselves the right to come to a preliminary understanding regarding the eventual step to be taken for the protection of their own interests in China. Before the Fresident will give assent to any of the provisions of the instrument he will ascertain the purport and scope of the third article.

The United States can, of course, be depended upon not to make any movement to obtain territory, and Japan has repeatedly asserted that she would not seek Chinese territory unless other nations do so. Italy and Austria, bowing to the will of Germany, and Great Britain, it is believed here that the course of the United States will have an important bearing upon the fate of China. As the attitude of the American grovernment is identical with that of the Caur, the United States and Russia together will exert a powerful in-

These hoisted umbrellas and came closer to the speaker, who, after seeking the protection of his hat, stood his ground against the elements and talked for half an hour upon the issues of trusts and imperialism. A noticeable feature of his handling of the latter topic was the emphasis which he placed upon the Boer question. Owing to the great number of Holland-American voters in this section of the State, this subject is forced to the front by all Democratic orators who visit the Fifth Congress District.

had begun to fall before he sppeared, but the crowd stood in the rain to hear him. Bryan was received with loud applause. Before beginning his speech proper, Bryan referred to the presence on the platform of a brother of the late New York banker. St. John, who, notwithstanding his calling, had supported the Democratic ticket in 1854. Bryan attacked the theory that a well-supplied table could meet all the demands of the working people. Referring to Gov. Roosevelt's recent visit to this city, he said:

"I understand that you had a parade here and that a man was carrying a bucket in the parade and someone asked him if his dinner pall was full. He said 'no, it is empty, and I paid twice as much as it was worth then.' You will find lots of men who have the same complaint."

In connection with his discussion on the question of government by injunction, Bryan quoted from an article alleged to have been written for the Review of Reviews by Gov. Roosevelt in September, 1894, and continued: "Fou laboring men who are opposing to government by injunction can soon find out what opinion the Republican party has of you, as stated by the man who now represents the Republican party has of you, as stated by the man who now represents the Republican party has of you, as stated by the man who now represents the Republican party has of you, as stated by the man who now represents the Republican party has of you, as stated by the man who may relief from government by injunction are as regards essential principles in hearty sympathy with their remote skin-clad ancestors, who lived in caves, fought one another with stone axes and ate the mammoth and wooily rhinoceros."

Commenting on this Bryan said: "I want to ask you whether you expect any relief from government by injunction from people who say that any man who opposes government by injunction from people who say that any man was therefore saying there was no such thing. THE "MIDNIGHT ALARM."

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—William J.

Bryan's itinerary, after he has finished with the National Association of Democratic Clubs, Saturday night, has been prepared by the Democratic State Committee. He will rest in this city Sunday and will start up the State on the New York Central at 2:30 o'clock that night. He will make ten speeches on Monday, returning to New York for a few hours. He will start out again about midnight, and Tuesday will make fourteen speeches. THE "MIDNIGHT ALARM."

the tight the will make ten speeches on Monday, returning to New York on Monday, returning to New York on the Chesapeake Railroad traversing the picturesque valleys of the Big Kanawha and New Rivers was the scene of Bryan's campaign today. Speeches were made at Huntington, Hurricane, St. Albana, Charleston, Brownston, East Bank, Montgomery, Sewell, Thurmond end Hinton. The size of the audiences varied, but all of them were learge in proportion to she population of the towns and of the surrounding country. There were especially fine crowds at Hungtington, Charleston and Hinton, people coming into the towns from the adjacent region.

The one notable feature of the day was Bryan's repeated reference to the race question. His line of travel to-day was further south than he had gone before and further than he will again so and there was quite a humber of colored people scattered through the crowds at all the stopping places. Bryan evidently noted their presence and took occasions to address portions of his address specially to them, appealing to them to do justice by the Fillpinos, as they would take justice done by themselves. The meeting at Hinton was the last of the day and when it concluded Bryan left for Washington en route for Maryland, to which state he will devote tomorrow.

Bryan made a general speech at Hinton. When some one asked him about the necessity of a large army, this country, he said that if the Democratic plans for the settlement of disputes by arbitration, for doing away with the blacklist and for the abolishment of government by injunction could be put linic execution, there would be no necessity for a large army. The rowed at Hinton was not sloy demonstrative. There were a mimber of shouts for McKinley et the beginning of the meeting.

Issue of Campaign.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A crowd of 300e colored voters listened to an address tonight by Senator Hanna at the First Regiment Armory. The Senator was very hodine, as a result of his week's campaign in the West, but nevertheless he succeeded in making himself heard. He spoke briefly and his remarks were at all times greeted with applause.

"There never was a time," Senator Hanna said. "when those whose citizenship came with the birthday of the Republican party had greater cause to rejoice. The colored troops are always in line and ready for action. As long as the Republican party is true to the principles which attracted to it the colored population of the United States, the colored vote will never be divided. "All of the collateral issues injected into this campaign by the Bryanites have for the sole purpose of bewildering and leading public opinion astray as 40 what was the real issue. When it comes down to what we are most interested in it amounts to just one issue and one short sentence tells is: "Let well enough alone."

"No man who loves his country, no man who is proud of his citizenship, no man who care for his own material interests can have more than one choice upon that question. Today we are in the midst of the greatest era of prosperity that this country ever, knew, but it is nothing more than the naturol condition of a nation having, as we have, the greatest natural resources of any, the greatest people of any, ful of industry, ingentity and progress.

Maj.-Gen. Wood Reports on the Splendid Progress of the Island.

(BT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Maj.-Gen.
Wood today made a statement as to the contents of his civil report as Governor-General of Cuba. He says:
"Every town of consequence in the island has been provided with a wellequipped hespital with all necessary supplies and appliances. The largest hospital, which is at Havana, is capable of accommodating 2000 patients, and is now serving as a general municipal hospital for that city.
"Asylums for orphan children have been established wherever necessary.
The number of these institutions has been greatly reduced during the past few months, owing to the great improvement in the general conditions existing in Cuba, children being taken back to their families or their friends (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

It is the purpose of the insular government to establish four State Institutions, two for boys and two for girls; two to be industrial and agricultural and two to be correctional and industrial. These institutions will be capable of accommodating about five hundred children each, and will be thoroughly equipped with all supplies and materials required by such institutions under modern conditions."

Gen. Wood describes the sweeping reform of the prison system and of the procedure of the courts, and notes that the writ of habeas corpus will take effect December 1. As to free schools, he says: "During the present year overthree thousand public schools have been established; 3600 teachers are employed in them, and 150,000 pupils are in the schools. This number is constantly increasing, and by the end of the present school year it is believed we shall have $60,000 children in school. The largest number at school under the Spanish rule was between 20,000 and 30,000. The salaries paid the teachers are all high, exceeding any paid in the United States in corresponding grades, with the exception of three or four large cities. School desks and supplies for 100,000 children have been purchased, sent to the Island and put up. The enthusiasm for public education is great. The trip of 1300 teachers to Cambridge was most beneficial, and attempts will be made to repeat it next year."

The complement of a number is the difference between it and the unit of the next highest order; thus, 2 is the complement of 95; 6 is the complement of 95; 13 is the complement of 87. To multiply these two numbers multiply the complements 2 and 6 and place the product, 12. in the answer. For the remaining two figures, subtract across, either the 6 from the 98 or the 2 from the 94, leaving 92. Apply this rule to the following examples:

The dapper young woman who corries a walking stick has made her advent in New York and Chicago. As this is the season when travel sets rapidly westward, eitisens of Los Angeles need not be surprised to see her on Spring street at an early day.

"He was wrong in "M. He is wrong now; and I firmly believe that the almost treasonable utterances of Mr. Bryan and the so-called anti-imperialists are doing more to prolong the rebellion in the Philippines, are responsible for the deaths of more of our American soldier heroes there, than all other agencies combined.

"Mr. Bryan says he would rather see two flags waving over two separate republics than one flag over an empire. Jefferson Davis said exactly the same thing in 1800.

"I say support the man who put the flag up in Porto Rice; who put it up in Hawaii; who put it up in the Philippines and who advocates keeping it there—and may God grant it may never come down!"

is a menace to the republic because required by empires.

The particular people for whom this specious plea is formulated are the foreign-born citizens who harbor unpleasant recollections of the system of impressment employed by continental governments to recruit their military strength. As a matter of fact, however, there never has been, nor is there now, the slightest prospect for the establishment of an army in the United States made up by conscription. Never in the history of this country, except in stress of war, has the draft been resorted to to secure military enlistment. On the contrary, the regular army, in times of peace, has always been an army of volunteers, every member entering the ranks of his own free will.

deterioration of the population, particularly in such countries as France and Spain.

"Legal selection is mainly limited at present to the segregation of the insane, feeble-minded and other deficients, and the execution of criminals. The elimination of criminals family strains should be the purpose of criminal jurisprudence. A further step in the same direction already taken by seven or eight American States is the limitation or prevention of the marriage of defectives.

"Emigration is often the beginning of a selective process upon a vast scale. A potent selective factor is the concentration of the more ambitious and probably more able members of the community in the cities. Cities have been in general consumers of the elements that migrate thither, the urban population rending to die out after three or four generations, and needing constant replenishing from the country. But modern sanitation and improvements of all sorts render this process less marked, and the city population may in time become entirely self-sustaining. The elimination of the upper urban categories through restricted birth rate is, however, apparently a very general phenomenon of modern civilization. As the oil mounts in the wick to be consumed at the top, so human life, drawn by ambition, ascends by achievement to be destroyed by an ultra-civilised standard of living.

"But the more particular work of the modern anthropo-sociologists has been the discovery that selection in the European populations works along racial lines. The races of Europe are distinguished first on the basis of their physical characteristics. The north of Europe is characterised today by the revealence of blondness tall stature.

selection. This race or type is variously designated by the terms 'Nordic,' Aryan,' Homo Europeus.' Another race may be distinguished, also dolichocephalic, but prevailingly short and dark, centered mainly in Spain and Southern Italy, and designated usually the Mediterranean type.

"Physiologically, the brachycephalic stock is industrious, frugal, receptive, conservative in religion—for the most part Catholic—and in war and politics, following the leadership of the more dominant elements represented by the Nordic of dolichocephalic type. This type is less uniform and mediocre, more dominant elements represented by the Nordic of dolichocephalic type. This type is less uniform and mediocre, more dominant predominantly Protestant in religion, forming the more active element of the population, and presenting a wide range of ability. It is concentrated in the rich plains and valleys, and in the cities. But not only the urban classes as compared with the rural, but the skilled laborers as compared with the unskilled, the professional and upper business class as compared with the laborers, show an increasing proportion of dolichocephalics. All these distinctions are indicated, and some of them pretty adequately proved by actual comparison and measurement of individuals. In Italy, under government direction, about 290,000 individuals have been measured.

"Modern colonisation has mount an immense expansion of the Nordic races. Anglo-Saxon expansion is really the expansion of Homo Europeus. The white population of the United States is far more homogeneous than is ordinarily supposed. There are many languages represented, but anthropologically there is a great preponderance of one race—the Nordic. It would be the part of wisdom for us to chape our policy in the control of immigration appoint and promote favorable selective processes that tend to improve the quality of population. Foreign policy should promote favorable selective processes that tend to improve the quality of population. Foreign policy should promote favora

HE WAS SCARED.

The murder of an express massenger near Columbus, O., the other day reminds me of a curious experience of my own," said a veteran employé of one of the big companiea. "It was a good many years ago and I had a messenger's run at the time in and out of Des Moines, Iowa.

"One evening on my return trip I took on a large-sized box at a desolate little country station about forty miles from the city. The box was fully six feet long by a yard broad and high, and was entered as merchandise' on the waybill. The stationmaster and I gave it no further thought until about half an hour later, when I happened to glance in that direction and causht a gleam of something bright shining through a small hole in the side. There was a knot in one of the boards at that point, and I suppose that the bumping of the train had jarred it loose. Anyhow, it had fallen out, leaving an orifice the size of a half dollar, and when I bent down to peer in I was thunderstruck to see a section of a human finger. The gleam had come from a gold ring. During the next few seconds I did some mighty fast thinking. It was clear there was a man in the box, and I was equally certain that he had planned to rob and murder me. The lid was no doubt arranged to be opened suddenly, and he probably calculated that my surprise and consternation would make me a neary prey when he emerged. I remembered in a flash that this identical scheme had been worked in one or two express robberies in the early days, and although my heart was going like a drum, I managed to control myself and before I arose I had mapped out a plan of action.

"There was a pile of 'trunks in the corner next to the box," continued the ex-messenger, 'and grabbing the upper one suddenly by the handle, I snatched it down right on top of the lift. In a twinkling I had another one by its side, and then two more on top of those. They were big, massive trunka, such as travelling salesmen usa, and I never have been able to understand how I tossed them around the way I did, but I suppose fear must have m

MONDAY'S EVENTS.

C OOD weather and fairly good sport if made up in part what was lacking in attendance at yesterday's events of the fall meeting of the Sixth District Agricultural Association. Compared with other years, however, the number of race-goers was as large as it generally has been on Mondays.

During most of the afternoon the crowd was slow to put up its money, and the managers of the betting stands were complaining of slow business. Over the auction stand a killing frost made its beautiful white tracery and the other betting establishments were "independent of the trust." The crowd was dead cold and failed to warm up under the influence of the more or less seedy touts. Toward the end of the day's programme things in a betting way began to improve and the dollars clinked merrity in the tills, white a liberal bunch of educated money was put up against the odds offered.

The fair is as yet not much mory than a race meet, but some improvement in the agricultural and hortcultural exhibits is promised. The displays are in an incomplete condition, but it is said they will be in better shape by Wednesday. FIRST A SPECIAL.

It was pet yeather in the Sunny South, sure enough. Every vestige of rain was gone from the blue and cloudless sky, and no mist came rolling up from the sea. The few visitors to the grand stand looked out upon such a visita of mountain and sky as is seidom seen anywhere. New York would not have sumeed Chicago or St. Louis. The first heat number would not have sumeed Chicago or St. Louis. The first heat was a special of 500 for the 2:14 class, to replace a race that hadn't filled. For this there were five entries, of which Osito was 1 to 1 before the start, 5 to 5 against Maryele McKinney, 5 to 2 against Maryele McKinney, 5 to 2 against Alia vela. 1 to 1 vendome, and 5 to 1 against Juan Chico. The start for the first heat was a good one, and Alta vela by two open leagths, to the quarter, with Vendome on his wheel in 248 seconds, and no material change took place at the half in 1:99, when young Durfee- began to rouse up his mare and she came along with a rush. At the head of the stretch she had got on even terms with Alta and his driver did not appear to be much worried over it. There was not much of a raily through the homestretch and Maggie McKinney won in 2:13. In the second heat Durfee had dropped back to third place, and Alta Vela led two lengths to the quarter and three to the half in 1:97. About that time Maggie got up to Osito and they had a hot chase after Alta Vela and the turn, but the son of Electioneer held them both safe and won the heat.

GALLOPING EVENTS.

Now came the galleping events, the first being five foriouse for maiden two-year-olds, for which Briton was a heavy favorite, while 10 to 1 could be had against the ultimate winner, and 8 to 1 against Little Edelwe'ss, who, through a foul on the pait of Col'amarini towned by McSweeney) got the second money. Briton and Myrtle got off in front, but Collamarini soon got into the second place, while El Toolo was all but left. On entering the stretch. El Toplo and Little Edelwe'ss came like bombshells, but they were too lote. El Toplo fouled the gray filly and lost ris share of the purse. Following is the summary:

Purse 2526, of which 350 to second, for maiden two-vear-olds: five furiouses: Sherman & Elland's b.f. Myrtle, by Prince's Firet, 16 to 1, 110 pounds, won: Mrs. S. B. Wolfskill's gr. f., Little Edelweiss, by Up Plenty, 8 to 1, 115 pounds, second; Doble & Campbell's ch. c. El Toplo, by Emperor of Norfolk, 5 to 2, 112 pounds, third; time I:08. Ban Laddle, 110 pounds: Co'amarini, 115; Mafelking, 110, and Briton, 116, favorite at 4 to 5, also rin.

SIX FURLONGS.

The next race was at three-quarters of a mile, for all ages, with penalties and aliawances. There were seven across on the eard, but old Shannon in July without a record, and, in September, got one of 2:10%, which is without parallel in the history of the diagonal gait.

Farmer Bunch said: "Tes, you see that chap handle that colt with both hands here in the stretch, but you can't appreciate him. You ought to see him over there on the back stretch driving him with his left hand and Jollyin me along all the way. I tell you he can pull a brewery wagon and beat my horse." It is quite evident that Callfornia has never yet reen a "green" horse equal young Mr. Lopson's bit with race, running, three-quarriers of a mise: Heraldo (194, The Devil II (04,) Miss Vera (104,) Benroe (122,) William O'B. THE LUCKY SPOT

TAPPED AGAIN AT NEWHALL.

The Commercial Oil Company yesterday made a strike of 16 gravity oil at a depth of 665 feet, having passed through 38 feet of oil sand. The well is located about two—"res from Newhall and it is supposed to be a good one. The pumping plant was sent up yesterday by Robert McGarvin, and until it is in pect he declines to guess at the magnitude of the new well.

The California Oil Company have reached a depth of upwards of 1152 feet, in their first well in the Newhall district. The drill is now in a very hard crust and they are looking for great results os soon as they get through this.

VENTURA COUNTY.

BIG SANTA PAULA STRIKE.
The Whidden-Double Oil Company, operating north of Santa Paula, on the Bracken tract, has struck oil. This is an its second well. The operators found a vein of oil at 134 f-- and so great was the supply that the oil rose 65 feet in the eleven-inch casing. The test made indicates a seventy-five-barrel well and it is probable that it will be increased or multi-vied as the well is developed. Additional wells will be put down as soon as posible.

HIGHLAND PARK.

WATER SOUGHT, OIL FOUND. E. L. Witte, the new Highland Park ill enthusiast, yesterday displayed a sottle of heavy oil, extracted from rock bottle of heavy oil, extracted from rock taken from a well which was being drilled for water on the Naud place, on Avenue 55. This rock was taken from a depth of 66 feet, and on comparison being made Mr. Witte says it corresponds exactly with the outcroppings in the Pullerton field. The same rock has also been taken out of three other drillings made at Highland Park, between Avenues 53 and 55. Movements are now on foot to organize several small companies to thoroughly test the territory, which Mr. Witte thicks the much better plan for those who have but small holdings.

KERN RIVER FIELD.

SEEKING TO ANNUL A LEASE. J. A. Chansior has instituted proceed agreed to pump oil by June 1, 1900. Mr. Scott, representing the defendants, said: "The firm has done everything possible in hurrying development, but as a matter of fact is only now nearas a matter of fact is only now nearing the point of production. When you develop something good, no matter at how much worry and cost, some spe is plways ready to try to take it away."
Three ejectment suits have been filed in Kcrn county against the Kern Oil Company, Kern River Oil Company,
Astee Oil Company and Elwood Oil Company, to disposess them of certain lands in sections 4, 29, 28; 32, 28, and

SUMMERLAND. SUMMERLAND.

TESTING THE FOOTHILLS.

SUMMERLAND, Oct. 22.—[Regular Correspondence.] Prospectors are preparing to drill for oil in the foothills north of town. Heretofore efforts in that direction have proved unsuccessful, the desired article not having been found in paying quantities, though the acepage and surface indications are good. If the present operators make a strike if will mean an extension of the Summerland field in a new and unlooked-for direction.

RUMORS RIFE IN ENGLAND.

Both Premiership and Place in the Poreiga Office.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1. NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Lord Balisbury's, success in making terms with Germany and interfering in the China negotiations with authority allences all talk about his retirement from the Foreign Office, says the Tribune's London correspondent. The most industrious Cabinet makers now admit that he cannot be spared from that office, and that he must be allowed to hold it and the Premiership as long as possible. Lord Lansdowne is now relegated by the rumor mongers to Dublin Lord Ealfour of Burleigh is named for the War Office, and Ritchie for the admiralty. Wyndham and Broderick are promoted to the Cabinet. Each day produces a new icombination from the friends of the ambitious or restless statesmen.

The impending retirement of Sir Campbell-Bannerman from the leadership of the Liberal party is foreshadowed, says the Tribune's London correspondent. He finds it almost impossible to be radical enough for the advanced members of his party without giving offense to the Roseberyites, and he will undoubtedly retire unless he gets a promise of better support than he received in the last Parlisment.

[New York Sun;] For height, broad shoulders and herculean build, the party of twenty-two Colifornian cattle raisers who registered at the Stevens House on Thureday night, could hardly be surpassed. They were on their way from Los Angeles to the Argentine Republic, where they intend to false cattle on a much more extensive scale than they could in California.

The party consisted of the three Pallett brothers and their families, with five cowboys who had thrown in their lot with the company in the hope of making a fortune in the fertile valley of the Platte River.

The three Pallett brothers are each fully 6 feet in height, have broad, muscular shoulders, and tip the scales at 200 pounds. Their wives are hearly as tall and muscular. Two of the brothers have each four daughters and the third brother has three. These eleven girls range in ages from 18 to 22 years and take after their parents in build. "Never before," said the night clerk at the hotel, "have we had guests who attracted so much attention, and we grequently have some peculiar people stopping here. The other guests in the house seemed like dwarfs as compared with this western party."

W. A. Pallett, the oldest brother, when asked for his reason for leaving America, said: "We are all sorry to leave the United States, but all the grazing land is rapidly being settled and, with the increase of the population the cattle raisers are being driven farther West. My family was interested in the business and first had extensive ranges in Ohle. From there we followed the frontier clear to the Pacific Coast. We go now to Rosario and thence up in the mountains about fifty miles to the broad valley of the Platte River. Great inducements exist there for profitable cattle raising. We have the European markets to sell to, where prices are much higher than in Texas, Mexico or Lower California. We have g cash capital of $45,000 and expect to be joined in Argentine by another shareholder to the extent of 3000. The ranch will be managed on a cooperative basis."

After looking at a few sights of the city the party sailed for the Argentine Republic Friday. The regular guests at the Stevens House have not yet stopped talking about the queer arrivals Thursday, and they are now wondering what fate awaits the eleven young, handsome daughters in the wilds of South America.

When the campaign opened it ap-conducting his canvass.

When the campaign opened it appeared to the managers of the Republican party as if there were going to be a very bitter fight to win the election. To tell the truth about the matter, the the people might better understand his policies. In fact, at one time so panic-stricken were some of the Republicans that they urged the President to go out on a spell-binding trip through the Middle West, where, so they told him, his Porto Rican policy had done some damage to the party.

It is now a matter of history that the President refused to listen to these bleadings. In the first piace he considered it to be beneath the dignity of the President of the United States to go out and beg the people to vote for him. Mr. McKinley even believes that it is beneath the dignity of a man who has been nominated for the Presidency by a great political party to go out on a speech-making trip, and during the campaign of 1896 he revolted constantly against that sort of business. The President this year told his advisers, first, that he did not share their fears regarding the outcome of the election. He told them that Mr. Bryan had, during the campaign four years ago, exhausted all of his powers of persuasion on the stump, and that he did not see how more could be done this year by the Democratic candidate than was done then. This answer did not please the Republican managers; they did not believe that the President was close enough to the people to know what was going on, and it was a frequent remark in Washington that Mr. McKinley would have a rude awakening from his dream of an easy election. As time went on the Republican managers began to absorb some of the confidence that was held by the President from the first, and they see to-day, with the election only a little ways in the distance, that it would have been a terrible mistake had Mr. McKinley yielded to their wishes and gone into the Middle West to make speeches in defense of his administration. Mr. McKinley is an effective speaker, and makes friends among those who hear him speak, but the fact of his speaking would have furnished the enemy with additional emmunition for carrying on their warfare of misrepresentation; the President would have furnished the enemy

COVINA, Oct. 22.—[Regular Correspondence.] The pulpit of the Covina Methodist Episcopal Church was occupied Sunday evening by the Rev. A. C. He devoted the presching hour to the answering of questions relative to the political, commercial, sucial and religious conditions existing in China today. He considers the present troubles due to an anti-foreign, not an aminissionary sentiment, a condition which has been largely brought about by the Dowager Enapress and her officials. Last year she issued two secret edicts authorising the massacre of all foreigners throughout the empire. The young Emperor belongs to the progressive party, and would grant foreigners
